THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1933
EDMONTON BULLETIN
AGREES WITH MR. PRATT

Recently there appeared in The Tribune an editorial which argued very much along the same line as that appearing here. The following is the editorial in full:

"PAY OFF THE BONDS"

"Preparations are being made at Ottawa to issue a huge conversion loan. Bonds amounting to $100,000,000 are to be paid off with borrowed money. The new bonds will bear interest at 4 per cent, and will carry from 5 to 10 per cent interest. The saving in interest will amount to a large sum per year. If there were no way of dealing with the bonds the proposal to issue new bonds would be a very serious matter. The following is the editorial in full:

"There is an alternative: one that would get rid of both the debt and the interest, and in doing this would cost $100,000,000 of new money into circulation. Instead of borrowing to renew the debt, the Government should issue $100,000,000 of new money against the general credit of Canada, pay off the bonds, and burn them. That would end the debt, principal and interest. But what is even more important, it would reduce the cost of new money into the channels of industry and trade in Canada forthwith.

"Instead of getting a renewal note, the holder of the present securities would then be given a new receipt, each which the Government did not want and would not want to pay. It could be done with it but it is in a business enterprise of some sort or other, and it is a business enterprise that would have an immediate increase of half a billion dollars in buying power in the country. Business would pick up at once, employment would become more plentiful, and the wages would tend to rise, the withering influence of deflation would be checked, taxation would be reduced by the amount of the interest bill.

"To convert the debt would of course be better than to continue to carry the outstanding issues with their abnormal interest demands, and to the taxpayers. But to renew the debt on any terms is neither necessary, expedient nor justifiable. The new securities should be paid in cash, the burden of debt and interest lifted from the taxpayer absolutely, and a half billion of new currency thus put into circulation.

TEND OF SETTLEMENT

The trend of settlement has been northward for the last number of years is indicated by the figures compiled by the provincial government. In 1909 the population of the province constituted 1,000,000. In 1928 it was 7,985, and in 1931 this number had grown to slightly over 20,000.

The Peace River country (north of the Peace) also shows a remarkable advance. In 1928 the population was 5,447 and in 1931 this number had grown to over 12,000.

The population in the constituency of Graveland has doubled during the same period. In 1928 there was a population of 4,432, and in 1931 it was 8,864.

The comparative figures show that the population in these three constituencies has increased more than in any other.

Hugh Allen is called upon to represent more people than any other member of the legislature.

SOCIETY DEPENDS MUCH ON VOLUNTARY EFFORT

Elsewhere in this issue there is a news story which carries an announcement that Mr. J. B. Lyle, editor of the Peace River News, has been named as the public school for the year 1933-34. Mr. Lyle is a man of many talents and his services are much appreciated. The work he is being undertaken simply to help the children.

Under our scheme of things a huge amount of labor is being put into the work of the public school. Society cannot, as a rule, pay for these services, and if it were not for public subscription, the work of these men and women would be a thought of pay, and the money would be a full place in the work and advance would be made.

Both Mrs. Mary and Mr. J. B. Lyle are to be complimented on their public spirit.

BOYS AND BICYCLES

Of late several complaints have been made to The Tribune with regard to boys riding bicycles who are too young to be on the roads. The result of this traffic, with the result that accidents were narrowly averted.

One man suggested that this matter should be taken up in the schools and the students lectured on the rules of the road.

governing the streets and highways by someone capable of doing so.

"For instance," he observed, "I put my hand on the handle of a bicycle that was about to turn. A boy on a wheel did not understand the sign, and an accident was narrowly averted."

That boys and girls should understand the signs, and that they should be able to avoid accidents, is imperative if accidents are to be avoided.

The suggestion of the gentleman mentioned seems to be a good one.

A DIFFERENCE IN POLITICS

Over the weekend Jim McFarlane and Joe Moore, accompanied by their wives, visited Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Allen.

So far as the men of the party are concerned, it would be hard to find a greater political mulligan. Here we had Hugh Allen, M.L.A., standard-bearer of the U.C.P., and Joe Moore, a U.C.P. member of the House of Commons. All were in the U.C.P. line.

During the trip through the country, a few lines were taken at politics, at the suggestion of Mr. Allen, the party took a trip through the country for the purpose of taking notes.

It is understood that Joe had not been in the area for some twenty years. He said that he had not visited the country in twenty years.

BUFFALO LAKES

BUFFALO LAKES, Sept. 18.—During the last few weeks, the hunting bears have been paying most unwelcome visits to Frank (the hunter) on his homestead and also to the hunting cabin of the Ganselwald Bros. just north of the correction line.

Not finding anybody home, they simply smashed the door in and went through the window, and then until they made Frank's aluminum pots and pans look as if a bear had been in them. Probably expecting to find honey, the beaver speared to find powder tin on both sides of the tin in the can was consumed, freely and not hesitating to wait for the next bear.

The bears, however, became too overbearing when they displayed a marked preference for nutmeats and nutmeats of sheep found in the neighborhood of A. Rittman's farm, near here.

A posse of hunters went out and managed to wound one bear, which is now expected to recover and pay more visits.

It is reported that three inches of snow fell at Fredericksburg last Sunday during the storm.

The bridges on both sides of the Buffalo Lake were fast getting in a deplorable state of disrepair, especially the one approximately 2 1/2 miles north. This particular one is badly in need of repair and in its present state is not safe to cross with loads on it. The many large holes in the floor. BATTLESHIP SAVES BOY
(London Times)
An "8.5.5." message flashed from the top of a cliff near Plymouth early one morning last week brought H. B. Rodney, one of Britain's biggest battleships, in the rescue of a boy who was trying to hold on to the rocks at the very of the incoming tide. He was Arthur Hill, 17, of Maleny Lodge, Bournemouth, and had been walking on the cliffs at Bournemouth last night, when he slipped and fell to the rocks 100 feet below. It was found impossible to move the injured boy.

H.M.S. Rodney was at anchor half a mile away in Plymouth Sound, and A. G. Atkins, a former army signaller, who was on holiday in the district, flashed an "8.5.5." message with a small torch and before he had reached the battleship acknowledged it.

Mr. Atkins quickly sent the message in Morse: "Scout over cliff. Serious injuries. Cannot reach. Send help. Answer by the battleship." The immediate lowering of a launch and a whaleboat.

Guided by the searchlights of the battleship the launch reached the spot where the boy was lying. He was taken to a stretcher, put him in the launch, and took him at full speed to the shore, where he was taken to a hospital. He was reported later to be progressing favourably.

FRANCE HAS SECOND

FAIR AND NEARLY AS GOOD AS NEW
HE STILL DRIVES THEM IN
Mr. Joseph McCarthy never has said so and probably never will, but we have no doubt that he would be a most competent manager of the great one, George Herman Ruth was signed to manage a major league club next season.

If the Babe doesn't get himself another job and signs with the Yankees for 1934, McCarthy is likely to be faced with the most unpleasant task ever assigned a baseball manager—that of permanently benching the greatest player in the game.

And it's the Babe's magnetism at the turnstile—his ability to pull the cash customers into the stands—that would make McCarthy's job so difficult. Baseball experts have told us the Yankees wouldn't be behind the scenery today if somebody other than Ruth had been in right field all season. That the great one's slowness about has been very costly.

Bread Made With Milk

By THE MAN WHO REMEMBERS

I like to buy bread that I know is made with milk. It's a pretty sure thing that the man who makes his bread with milk is putting in other good things, too.

Up until lately, bread has been sort of an ornament for the table, like the centre bowl of flowers... something to look at only. But time are different now. Inexpensive food that nourishes is popular. Bread is one of our main foods again.

PRES. DE VALERA

BLUE NOTE BECOMES STRONGER IN ERIN'S "WEARIN' O' THE GREEN"

Although Sean T. O'Kelly, vice-president of the executive council of the Irish Free State, and President De Valera's right-hand man, distanced the growing movement of the blue shirts in Ireland as just a controversy about shirt colors when he arrived at New York for a visit recently, observers in the Free State believe General O'Duffy's organization constitutes a serious menace to the dominance of the party controlled by De Valera. The Blue Shirts, 99 per cent of whom are ex-army men, recently amalgamated with the organizations of ex-President Cosgrave and also the Centrals. Following the has placed on the new organization by De Valera, General O'Duffy has announced a program of obedience to the law, "no violence and no revolution," but with the avowed object of defeating President De Valera's party at the polls.

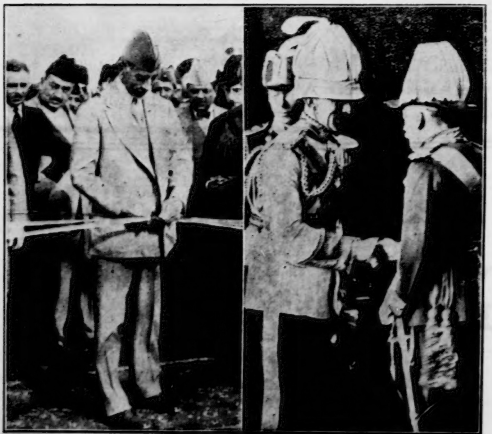

AT EXECUTIVE CONFERENCE

GERTRUDE JOHNSON

FORD'S INDIVIDUALISM BIG OBSTACLE TO NRA

The fact that he is first and foremost an individualist, a pioneer, who has built up a huge successful business without advice or aid from anyone, possibly accounts for Henry Ford's reluctance to play ball with General Johnson, NRA administrator. Ford, the first employer in the Ford Motor Co. to pay 11.35 a day minimum wage for employees, has been consistently in the national spotlight for reasons of his individualism. He tried to regulate the private lives of his employees, forbid them to smoke or drink. He fought and beat the bankers and insisted on running his business on the course he had mapped out, despite all opposition. His peculiarities, but his many valuable associates, until now only his son, Edsel, has any voice in the management of the huge Ford interests.

PASSING OF ARABIAN MONARCH SHOCKS THE EAST

The sudden death, from heart trouble, of King Faisal of Iraq, while in Switzerland, was a great shock to his subjects, and also to Europe. The past summer the scholarly king left his capital, Bagdad, and paid a visit to several of the European capitals, including London, where he was a guest of King George. He had interrupted a course of treatment at Bern to travel to London for a conference in connection with the Arabian troubles in his country, and was on his way home. Only 45 years of age, King Faisal was one of the most romantic figures in the East, and during the war became famous for his battles against the Turks in Arabia. The picture at the left shows him when he opened the great real bridge to cross the great river Euphrates and which forms a new and better gateway to the West. At the right King Faisal is being greeted by King George on his arrival in London recently. The Duke of York can be seen behind the Arabian monarch.

The Maple Leafs have not yet commented on Chabot's retirement and critics think an unsatisfactory agreement between the player and the club caused the trouble.

Grande Prairie TWO STORES Sexsmith

At the 19th Hole

The Richmond Hill Golf Club annual banquet will be held on the evening of Thursday, September 28, in the Grande Prairie Hotel. The banquet will be followed by an evening at the Capitol Theatre. After the show a dance will be held, open to all, and a string orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music for the dance.

On Sunday the Richmond Hill golf course was quite congested at times, as many as three matches being played at some of the holes in the early afternoon. The day was ideal for playing golf, old salt being out in all his glory and not a breath of wind to vex a golf ball from its course. The weather offered no chance for an alibi, and "sandy" had the links in excellent shape.

Last Thursday (Ladies' Day) had the largest turnout so far this season, over thirty ladies being present.

It is requested that all players desiring to enter the club championship tournament have their names entered at the clubhouse by Sunday, September 24. The committee in charge will make the draw on that day.

Provincial Synod Forms Diocese Of Arctic

The Provincial Synod of the Ecclesiastical Province of Rupert's Land convened in Winnipeg on September 14 and 15, under the Most Rev. I. O. Stricker, D.D., Archbishop and Metropolitan of Rupert's Land. Delegates representing ten of the dioceses of the province were present in the Lower House, while nine of the bishops were present in the Upper House. The Diocese of Athabasca was represented by the Most Rev. A. H. Severin, D.D., Ven. Archdeacon R. Little, D.D., Rev. W. Brant, H. W. Lamberton and E. W. Jackson, Chancellor. A. C. G. Barry, K.C., M.P., Dr. W. H. Sutherland, and Messrs. L. S. Edwards and R. P. Fitzgerald.

The Synod created a new Diocese of the Arctic, which will extend along the northern coast of Canada from Herschel Island to the Labrador coast. The Ven. A. L. Fleming, who has spent some years in Eskimo work, was elected first Bishop of the Arctic.

While the formation of this new diocese involved cutting off considerable territory from the diocese of Keweenaw and Moosemen, it left a vast area extending from the strait between the Arctic Circle, the remnant of the old diocese of Mackenzie River, which now ceases to exist, was leaving fourth Bishop of Yukon.

Left Wing of the New E. End of Sexsmith was a visitor to the Tribune office on Thursday last. Bill stated that he will leave for a holiday trip to his old home town of Canton sometime next week. any government. We have a minister of labor, a minister of trade and commerce, and other ministers representing certain phases of the nation's activities, but we are not recognized as a body of retail merchants.

The speaker asked that a committee be appointed to organize an Alberta Retail Merchants' Association.

One merchant wanted to know if Alberta beet sugar was equal to cane sugar. A letter was read containing an analysis, which indicated that beet sugar is fully as good as cane sugar.

Mr. MacKay said that the merchants were often blamed for raising prices when the price was raised to meet the needs of the manufacturer.

It was pointed out by a merchant in attendance that bulk apples had increased 25 cents a hundred pounds over last year. "Of course," added the speaker, "the merchant gets the blame for this advance."

In concluding his address, Mr. MacKay gave a brief summary of all the association had accomplished in getting certain legislation passed which would not have been passed if the merchants were not organized.

He also pointed out that the organization had the promise of further remedial legislation.

The Link With the Experienced Dealer Westinghouse

IN choosing an automobile you would select one through a local dealer. Apart from the factor of loyalty to local institutions, you know that after purchase free service and advice on operation, etc., are available. So with RADIO. Each year the public realizes more fully the essential link in the Deal is the Local Dealer. Further, the radio may be inspected and demonstrated.

Over ten years ago, when the first commercial set was on the market, Bell-Fleming launched into the Radio field, marketing WESTINGHOUSE. As they were the PIONEERS in Canada in producing a Receiving Set, so in this district we may lay a like claim. As successive years have passed, so have passed many Radio manufacturers and local dealers. Our qualifications to serve the Radio public we feel have been strengthened each year since.

In our extensive experience, Radios that we offer this year are value greater than ever before. Our prices we guarantee are no more than would be paid for the same article in any western city.
